DEADLINE

Deadline for the next issue of Today & Tomorrow, which will cover the period September 5-18, is Tuesday, August 25, 11 a.m. Please send your copy to Allen Balderson, News & Public Information Services, 532 Parnassus Ave., extension 1541 or 2557.

National and international public health organizations are joining the Peruvian Ministry of Health in a mutual assistance program to control tuberculosis in that country, thanks in large part to the efforts of Jay Nadel, chief of Pulmonary Medicine and director of pulmonary research, CVRI.

Philip C. Hopewell, head of the Pulmonary Function Laboratory at SFGH, will spend his 1981-82 academic sabbatical in Lima coordinating the program, which is designed to train Peruvian health professionals to combat the leading cause of death in their country.

The project is an outgrowth of a trip to South America that Nadel and his wife took in 1979. Authorities estimate that Peru's TB rate is at least 10 times that of the U.S.

As a result of Nadel's efforts, and that of a steering committee which he chairs, the project, which will cost $100,000 a year, is being coordinated by the International Union Against Tuberculosis (IUAT) and is sponsored by the World Health Organization, the Pan American Health Organization and the American Lung Association.

Several changes have occurred over the past month that affect all University employees in their benefits and salaries.

• Beginning August 1, higher premiums will be paid for all health plans. In some cases this means employees will have to pay more. An explanation of the higher costs will be enclosed with employee paychecks August 1. For further information call extension 1843. Other changes made in health, disability and life insurance plans are:

BLUE CROSS—100% hospitalization covered. All other medical expenses covered at 80% after $200 deductible ($400 family maximum). If expenses exceed $2,000 for the year, Blue Cross covers 100% additional expenses for the remainder of the year.

PRUDENTIAL—cosmetic surgery for beautification no longer covered; for the first time subscribers pay part of the premium.

KAISER—mental health benefits as prescribed by Kaiser physician—45 days prescribed hospitalization at no charge and 20 out-patient visits at no charge.

ROCKRIDGE—no substantial change.

SHORT TERM DISABILITY INSURANCE—higher premiums for people with the shortest waiting period (15-day) and lower premiums for all others.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH AND DISMEMBERMENT INSURANCE—increased coverage for dependent children, members covered for loss of speech or hearing, increased payment guarantee for disabled members, and special education benefits added to family or modified family plans.

• The July 1 State and University pay increases have been set at 6% or $85 monthly, whichever is greater. Certain classes receive greater increases to better reflect the competitive labor market. An updated local title and pay plan showing the new salary ranges for each class is posted in the Medical Sciences lobby and has been sent to all holders of the staff personnel manual. For further information contact the classification services division analyst for your department.

• In order to avoid confusion, UC-System-wide has sent out a clarification on vacation accrual for a full-time employee who works more than half time but less than full time. When a full-time employee is on 50% or more pay status, that first month of employment will be counted toward completion of the six-month probationary period and the waiting period for vacation leave. The vacation and sick leave earned for that first month, however, is prorated according to the number of hours on pay status.

NEWS BRIEFS

The world's leading authorities in the field of perinatal medicine will be brought together to present the most current clinical and laboratory data on this subject during the World Symposium of Perinatal Medicine.

The symposium, to be held at the Fairmont Hotel, S.F., Saturday to Wednesday, August 15 to 19, will feature three UCSF faculty members in Obstetrics and Gynecology: Robert K. Creasy, Julian T. Parer and Abraham M. Rudolph. There will be an opportunity to interact with participants and faculty in discussing the latest diagnostic and therapeutic modalities available in perinatal medicine.

The symposium is sponsored by Symposia Medicus and Georgetown University School of Medicine. For registration information call 935-7889.

The first Japanese-American Conference on Pharmacokinetics and Biopharmaceutics, held in Tokyo in July, was named the Sidney Riegelman Memorial Conference in honor of the UCSF professor of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Chemistry.

Riegelman, who died in April of this year, was a world leader in pharmacokinetics, the science which studies absorption, distribution, metabolism and excretion of drugs from the body. He worked to encourage exchange of information between American and Japanese scientists and had done much of the work in organizing this first conference.

Associate professor C. Anthony Hunt represented UCSF at the meetings; Leslie Z. Benet, professor, and Thomas N. Tozer, associate professor, also attended.

In addition, the 41st International Congress of the FIP (Federation Internationale Pharmaceutique Board of Pharmaceutical Sciences), to be held in Vienna in September, will dedicate its scientific proceedings to Riegelman. Both conferences recognize his international reputation and his loss to the scientific community.

Also in honor of the late professor, the Department of Pharmacy has established a Sidney Riegelman Lectureship Fund; a memorial symposium will be held in April, 1982.

The School of Nursing is one of three nursing schools awarded VA grants for advanced nursing education and training programs.

The four-year grants, totaling approximately $800,000, are designed to expand programs leading to the master's degree in nursing services administration.

The two other schools were at Columbia University and the University of Pittsburgh.

In an emergency, San Francisco residents can now dial 911 and be connected directly to a S.F. Police Department dispatcher who will arrange for emergency fire, police or medical assistance. This number can be dialed from a pay phone without a coin.

For on-campus emergencies, still call the campus police at extension 1110.

Twenty-eight new UCSF house staff residents began their clinical training at SFGH in July. Thirteen are enrolled in a first-year program that provides a broad clinical preparation: four to six months of medicine, four to six months of surgery and two months of pediatrics. Three are enrolled in a first-year program with a greater emphasis in medicine. Eight residents will begin a three-year family practice residency leading to board eligibility in family practice. Four trainees are first-year psychiatry residents beginning a four-year program, which is to be integrated with the LPPI and VAMC residency programs.

The UCSF School of Medicine is under contract to the City and County of San Francisco to provide medical care at the hospital. The staff includes approximately 150 full-time UCSF faculty, an equivalent number of part-time faculty and 180 house staff. The majority of the latter are rotating through SFGH as part of their specialty training; exceptions are the internships and family practice residency which are based at SFGH.

A symposium on "Oral Health Care for Special Patients: Dentistry's Great Challenge" will be held Friday and Saturday, August 28 and 29, in Room C 603, School of Dentistry.

Objectives are to encourage dentists and dental auxiliaries, physicians, nurses and therapists to develop their sensitivity and concern for the unmet oral health needs of the developmentally disabled patient, and to expand their role in community services and care. For registration information call extension 1101.

Bright yellow T-shirts, sporting a logo drawn by one of the children at the Child Care/Study Center, will go on sale beginning Monday, August 3, 11:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m. in either Millberry Union Plaza or the second floor of Medical Sciences (near the elevators), at $5 for children's sizes and $6 for adult sizes. The money raised will go toward equipment and the curriculum at the center. For further information call extension 1616. Samples are available at the Child Care Center and in the office of Cheyney Johansen, N 319 W.

UCSF's first class of nuclear medicine technologists will graduate on Friday, September 4, at University House. The four graduates of this program in the Nuclear Medicine Section of the Department of Radiology are Alan Binford, Suzanne Medders, Helen Lou and Sylvia Wong.

The program, now in its fourth year, is called the Nuclear Medicine Technology Education Program, is accredited by the Joint Review Committee on Education Programs in Nuclear Medicine Technology and is co-sponsored by the Committee on Allied Health, Education and Accreditation (CAHEA).

The program accepts students that have a BS and provides one year's education in the clinical and technical aspects of nuclear medicine.

Medical director of the program is Robert S. Hattner, head of the Nuclear Medicine Section and associate professor of Radiology; educational director is Dorothy Duffy Price.

Recipients of the 1981 awards presented at LPPI graduation ceremonies included: Kim Norman, MD, Award for Creative Achievement; Carolyn Gracie, MD, Alexander Simon Award; Sherry Mendelson, MD, Henry F. Albronda Award; Richard Unger, MD, National Psychiatric Endowment Fund; Steven Seligman, DMH, and Jennifer Nichols, DMH, Doctorate of Mental Health Award; Judith Fox, Robert E. Harris Memorial Award; Deborah Rugg, Outstanding Research; and full-time faculty Rick Lannon, MD, and clinical faculty Carl Jonas, MD, Residents Association Award for Teaching.

Applications are now being accepted for the Alan T. Waterman Award to mark the 25th Anniversary of the National Science Foundation, of which Waterman was the first director.

The recipient will receive a grant of up to $50,000 per year, for a period of up to three years, for scientific research or advanced study in the biological, mathematical, medical, engineering, physical, social or other sciences at the institution of the recipient's choice.

Candidates must be U.S. citizens and 35 years of age or younger, or not more than 5 years beyond receipt of the PhD degree by December 31, and should have completed sufficient scientific or engineering research to have demonstrated, through personal accomplishments, outstanding capability and exceptional promise for significant future achievement.

Two awards have been established by the psychology program in honor of Robert E. Harris, the first head of medical psychology at LPPI.

Harris founded the clinical psychology training program and the graduate program in psychology, which has since become the health psychology program.

One award will be given in the area of clinical training to a predoctoral fellow in clinical psychology; the other for outstanding research presented by the graduate group in psychology. Each award is for $100 and a certificate.

Kenneth P. Johnson, a professor of Neurology and Pathology since 1975, and director of the Neurology Research Laboratories at the VAMC in San Francisco, is leaving the UCSF faculty to become a professor and chair of the Department of Neurology at the University of Maryland, effective August 1.

The Searle Scholars Program has invited UCSF to submit two applications to their 1982 program. Each year this program awards twelve grants of $50,000 per year for three years. Eligibility is limited to tenure-track assistant professors in the first or second year of appointment and is limited to researchers in the fields of pharmacology, molecular biology, genetics, medicinal chemistry, biochemistry, biomedical engineering or related areas in medicine, chemistry and the biological sciences.
